To our shareholders

Dear Shareholders,

In this interim report we wish to inform you about the business performance of the Munich Re Group in the first half year 2002.

Our result was heavily influenced by four exceptional factors:

- The transactions prepared in 2000 and 2001 to reorganize Munich Re and Allianz shareholdings were completed as planned in the first half of 2002. The profits from reducing our stake in Allianz AG and from selling our holdings in Allianz Leben (first quarter) and in Bayerische Versicherungsbank and Frankfurter Versicherung (second quarter) amounted to €4.7bn.
- In order to deal decisively with the series of long-tail losses from our US business, we strengthened the loss reserves of our US subsidiary American Re by US$ 2bn. This adds 24.9 percentage points to our combined ratio.
- We also increased our reserves for losses from the 11th September attack on the World Trade Centre (WTC) by US$ 500m for the whole reinsurance group. This measure raises our combined ratio by 6.2 percentage points.
- Lastly, trends on the capital market were unsatisfactory in the first half of 2002. Amidst great volatility, there were some dramatic falls in share prices. We have taken account of this with writedowns of around €1.5bn in our equity portfolios, which have impacted Group net income with an amount of €0.8bn.

Our result for the first half year amounted to €4.1bn, compared with €1.3bn in the same period last year. It is made up of a profit of €4.5bn for the first quarter and a loss of €383m for the second quarter.

Group premium income rose from €17.1bn to €20.4bn, an increase of no less than 19.9%, which was mainly attributable to our reinsurance business.

The reinsurance treaty renewals at 1st April and 1st July 2002 confirmed the turn-of-the-year trend towards better prices and conditions. Claims expenses for major losses at the half-year stage were well below the average for recent years. This generally very positive development is reflected in a greatly improved combined ratio of 102.0%, after elimination of the reserve strengthening for US business and the increase of our provisions for losses from the WTC attack. In the comparable period of 2001 the adjusted combined ratio had been markedly higher at 107.7%.

We reported to you in detail on the situation at American Re via the media on 10th July and at the AGM on 17th July. Following the substantial strengthening of its reserves, far-reaching organizational and personnel measures, and major strategic realignment, American Re is a completely different company from what it was half a year ago. In future it will be concentrating solely on the US market, where the operating conditions for its business activities have significantly improved.

Against the background of growing risks worldwide, demand for reinsurance cover is constantly increasing. Munich Re benefits to a special degree from this demand, thanks to its expertise backed by financial strength and flexibility.

The importance of capital strength is being starkly demonstrated at the moment in primary insurance as well, where life insurance in particular is facing a stern test as a result of the developments in the capital markets. However, we continue to see the future of the German life insurance industry positively. Even if the upheavals in the capital markets mean that bonuses allocated to life insurance clients now have to be adjusted to reflect lower investment returns, life insurance is still superior to other forms of old-age provision. Greater private provision is inevitable, and the state subsidization of funded supplementary pensions will fuel demand for life insurance products still further. Although premium income will not grow as quickly as initially expected, our Group's life insurers, Hamburg-Mannheimer, VICTORIA and Karlsruher, will continue to be successful as a result of their excellent positioning.

Like all investors, we are currently concerned about the development of the stock markets. After the fall in share prices that has hit nearly all market segments, our equity capital (shareholders' equity plus valuation reserves) has decreased since 31st December 2001. Notwithstanding this, the Munich Re Group remains one of the most strongly capitalized risk carriers in the world.

Our clients are well aware of these developments. We therefore expect further premium growth in both primary insurance and reinsurance.

Without doubt, though, there is still a great deal to do. We are assigning top priority to refining our structures, processes and tools, and are improving the quality of our portfolio with each round of reinsurance treaty renewals.

Nevertheless, we prefer to refrain from giving a result forecast for the current business year. It is true that our reinsurance portfolio has performed very well to date, but given the volatility of such business, this does not necessarily say anything about the result for the business year as a whole. Moreover, further impairments in our equity portfolio as a consequence of the unsatisfactory trends on the stock markets – current price fluctuations are extreme – cannot be excluded. These variables make a reliable prediction of the result for the year too complex at present.

Yours sincerely,

Overall economic development

- Divergence between capital market trends and the real economy
- Markedly increased risk of a renewed slowdown in the global economy

Overall economic development in the second quarter was characterized by a divergence between capital market trends and data from the real economy, especially in the US and Europe. The danger is growing that economic development will suffer sustained damage from what is happening in the financial markets.

Whilst positive news from the real economy continued to predominate at the beginning of the period under review, prices on the stock markets fell dramatically in industrialized countries. The volatility of these markets, particularly in July, reached levels last experienced in autumn 1998.

After a strong start to the year, growth in the US economy was well below expectations in the second quarter, with provisional figures showing a seasonally adjusted annualized real growth rate in GDP of only 1.1%. Following this, a number of early indicators in July were disappointing.

There has also been a lack of positive news from the real economy in Euroland since the end of the first half year. Individual early indicators, e.g. the ifo business climate index in Germany or the INSEE business climate index in France, have made sobering reading.

There has been positive growth in the Japanese economy, albeit restrained and at a low level. In the emerging markets of Asia, development has even been very satisfactory, although concerns are mounting that a renewed slowdown in the US economy could have a knock-on effect on these markets. In Latin America, the crisis in Argentina is threatening to spread to neighbouring countries.

Despite considerable reductions in interest rates last year, inflation rates in most of the industrialized countries stayed at a low level in the first half year of 2002. Key interest rates in the US, Euroland, the UK and Japan remained unchanged up to the middle of the year.

The dollar initially came under further pressure from all the major currencies in the period under review. This helped the euro to achieve parity for a short time in mid-July.

In the light of the current situation in the capital markets and the geopolitical environment, any forecasts regarding overall economic development in the second half of the year involve substantial uncertainty. The risks to growth have increased markedly in the past few months. We expect the volatility to continue on the equity and bond markets. On the foreign exchange markets we are proceeding on the assumption that the euro-dollar exchange rate will remain within the range of the last few years.

REINSURANCE

- Upward trend on the reinsurance market continues
- Portfolio quality significantly improved
- Realignment of American Re underpinned with a substantial strengthening of reserves
- Provision for World Trade Center loss increased
- High realized capital gains and writedowns on investments

The performance of Munich Re's active reinsurance business was very satisfactory in the first half of 2002.

In negotiating reinsurance treaties, whose renewal dates were mostly at the start of the year, we reached important intermediate goals. Especially as regards highly exposed non-proportional business as well as cover for large individual risks, we achieved marked price adjustments and improvements in conditions.

Our main aim was to improve the quality of our portfolio: additional growth was not of prime concern. Of the reinsurance treaties up for renewal at 1st January, we therefore terminated almost one fifth – measured in terms of premium volume – because appropriate improvements in prices and conditions were not possible. At the same time, we not only achieved appreciably better terms of trade for the renewed business but also acquired attractive new business.

The significantly heightened awareness of the necessity and value of reinsurance with top security continued to benefit us in the renewal of treaties at 1st April and 1st July.

In the second quarter, our premium income increased by 22.7% compared with the same period last year, reaching €6.2bn (5.1bn). In the first six months of 2002, our premium thus grew by 30.2% to €13.2bn (10.1bn). For the year as a whole, however, we expect the growth rate to be appreciably lower than in the first half year. The grounds for this are to be found in the underlying figures from last year, when growth was comparatively low in the first half year but was boosted by several one-off transactions in the second half year.

Gross premiums by division

In life and health reinsurance, we increased our premium income in the second quarter by 10.9% to €1.7bn (1.6bn); this meant that it rose by 9.6% to €3.4bn (3.1bn) in the first half year. In property-casualty reinsurance, premium climbed by 27.9% to €4.5bn (3.5bn) in the second quarter, and by 39.2% to €9.8bn (7.0bn) in the first six months of the business year. A particularly gratifying fact was that this premium growth reflected in no small part the improved relationship between the risks assumed and the prices obtained for them.

Two factors substantially affected our reinsurance result: the strengthening of reserves for our US business and the increase in provisions for losses from the terrorist attack of 11th September 2001.

The entire claims situation at our US subsidiary American Re was thoroughly reviewed in the second quarter. Our objective was to deal decisively with the long-tail losses from the past, which have been a major issue in recent years. We have therefore increased American Re's loss reserves by US$ 2bn, thus making provision for all claims burdens that may still be reasonably expected from the past losses.

The increase of US$ 500m in our reserves for the WTC loss is due to the unique complexity and magnitude of this event. The extra provision we have made is exclusively for losses which have not been reported yet and are thus especially difficult to estimate.

Otherwise, expenses for large losses were considerably lower in the first half year than in the comparable period last year. We were not affected by claims burdens from major natural catastrophes in the first half of 2002.

The combined ratio amounted to 164.5% in the second quarter, or 102.2% excluding the above-mentioned additional reserving. For the first half of 2002, the combined ratio totalled 133.1% (110.3%). Adjusted to eliminate the additional reserving, it amounted to 102.0% (107.7%). For the whole of 2001 the combined ratio had been 135.1%, or 119.7% excluding the losses from the 11th September terrorist attack. If last year's additional reserving for American Re is eliminated as well as the WTC claims, the combined ratio for 2001 was 112.7%.

The result of our Group's reinsurance business before amortization of goodwill totalled –€1,186m (601m) for the second quarter and €4,282m (1,482m) for the first half year. Its contribution to the result after tax was –€254m (425m) in the second quarter and €4,902m (1,208m) for the first six months of the year.

PRIMARY INSURANCE

- Further dynamic growth in Germany and abroad
- High writedowns on investments due to weak stock markets
- Systematic expansion of distribution channels

The primary insurers in the Munich Re Group – especially the companies in the ERGO Insurance Group – maintained their strong growth in the first half of 2002. Premium income rose by 6.1% in the second quarter to €3.8bn (3.6bn), thus increasing in the first half year by 6.7% to €8.4bn (7.8bn). Most of this was organic growth.

The increase derived from all fields of business, but the main contributor was life insurance, where premium rose by 11.3% in the second quarter to €1.8bn (1.6bn). Our life insurers have proved themselves to be especially attractive providers of products offering private provision – of all varieties, not just “Riester” supplementary pension products. In the first half of 2002 our premium income from life insurance expanded by 7.7% to €3.5bn (3.2bn). This expresses the increasing need among our clients to make personal provision for old age.

Gross premiums in health insurance grew by 4.6% in the second quarter, totalling €1.0bn (1.0bn). The increase in the first six months reached 5.0%, with premium income climbing to €2.1bn (2.0bn). There was double-digit growth in new business in Germany, driven partly by the concern that the earnings ceiling for compulsory public health insurance would be raised. Our new clients were thus casting an impressive vote for the attractiveness of private health insurance.

Premiums in property-casualty insurance amounted to €1.0bn (€1.0bn) in the second quarter. In the first half of 2002 our premium from this business sector was up 6.4% to €2.8bn (2.6bn), particularly due to our non-German business, which showed growth rates well into two digits. Also worthy of mention is industrial property insurance, where long-overdue remedial measures are gradually leading to risk-adequate prices again, and corresponding premium growth.

In the first half year 2002 our primary insurers continued to consistently pursue their strategy of seeking access to clients via as many channels as possible. ERGO’s collaboration with the HVB Group is moving swiftly ahead. In addition, the ERGO Insurance Group has forged a strategic partnership with KarstadtQuelle. One outcome of this is the joint-venture company KarstadtQuelle Financial Services GmbH (KQFS), in which ERGO and KarstadtQuelle each hold a stake of 50% and which will in future provide a comprehensive range of insurance, banking and other financial services products through a variety of distribution channels. This will give us access to around 19 million customers of the KarstadtQuelle Group. Also in the context of this partnership, ERGO has acquired a 72.5% interest in Quelle Versicherungen, the third-largest German direct insurer, with premium income of €550m.

Gross premiums by class of insurance

The primary insurers' results have been hit by the unsatisfactory stock market situation, which required writedowns of €7m on equity portfolios in the first quarter and €166m in the second. Consequently, our primary insurers achieved a result before amortization of goodwill of only €6m (231m) in the second quarter, and €115m (345m) in the first six months. Their contributions to the Group result after tax for these periods were –€74m (€82m) and –€47m (€104m) respectively.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

- Weak state of capital markets necessitates large writedowns on investments
- Transactions between Munich Re and Allianz successfully completed

The recovery that took place on the international stock markets in the last quarter of 2001 failed to continue in the current business year. The volatile sideways movement in the first quarter of 2002, with an interim high in March, was followed by a decline in share prices that saw the DAX falling to a first-half-year low of 4,099 points on 26th June.

In the year to date the global bear market has left its mark on the Munich Re Group's equity portfolios, with our insurance and bank stocks in particular suffering substantial losses in market value.

The recent worldwide slide in share prices is partly attributable to the fear of a renewed slowdown in the economy. Above all, however, the apparently dubious accounting practices of firms like Enron and World-Com have shaken investors' confidence. The Munich Re Group's portfolio also included such stocks, but the volume of our investments in US companies whose rating has been seriously affected totals less than 0.2% of the market value of our investments as a whole.

Development on the bond markets was distinctly less volatile. Interest rates in the main economies stayed at a historically low level, with yields on ten-year government bonds remaining under 5.5% in Euroland, the UK and the US. Munich Re's bond portfolio is broadly diversified internationally and by bond category, as well as subject to strict risk requirements.

Our investment result in the first half year was significantly influenced by capital gains totalling €4.7bn from the transactions with Allianz. In the first quarter, gains of €3.8bn were realized on the sale of shares in Allianz AG and Allianz Leben, and in the second quarter a further €0.9bn was realized from the disposal of our shares in Frankfurter Versicherung and Bayerische Versicherungsbank. On the other hand, the sharp falls in prices on the stock exchanges in the first half year necessitated writedowns on our equity portfolios amounting to €1.5bn, of which €1.4bn occurred in the second quarter. The overall investment result for the second quarter was a profit of €2.0bn, compared with a profit of €9.0bn for the first half year.

Investment mix

Prospects

There are various reasons why the quarterly results of insurance companies, including Munich Re, are not a completely reliable indicator for the results of the business year as a whole. Losses from natural catastrophes and other major losses have a disproportionate impact on the result of the reporting period in which they randomly occur. Late-reported claims for major loss events can also lead to substantial fluctuations in individual quarterly results. Furthermore, gains and losses on the disposal of investments are accounted for in the quarter in which the investments are sold.

- Continued strong premium growth in reinsurance and substantially lower combined ratio for active business
- Capital markets extremely weak and volatile so far
- High capital gains on the sale of shareholdings compensate for strengthening of reserves and writedowns on equities

GROWTH

For the whole business year we expect Group premium income to reach €40bn (36bn).

Especially in reinsurance, our premium income for 2002 will show another strong increase: we anticipate growth of 13.6% (21.1%) to €25.2bn (22.2bn) and a substantially reduced combined ratio for our active business. For 2003, given the diminishing market capacity and low investment yields, we look forward to further appreciable improvements in our terms of trade.

In primary insurance, Germany continues to be by far our most important market. In view of the difficult economic environment, premium growth in the German market is likely to reach around 4% at most, driven largely by life and health insurance.

All in all, we should record gross premiums of €16.9bn from primary insurance in 2002, or 7.4% more than last year. We expect overall growth of 9.2% in life insurance, 5.1% in health insurance, and 6.9% in property-casualty insurance. These figures include the premium income written by Quelle Versicherungen, which we acquired in the first half year and whose premiums for 2001 totalled €550m.

New shares created by the exercise of warrants are included pro rata temporis from the respective date of delivery.

The exercise period for the warrants 1998/2002 expired on 3rd June 2002. Thus at the reporting date there were no more potential shares in circulation that would have a diluting effect.
