aiSelf™

Insure the performance of your Artificial Intelligence solutions

Innovative coverage for Artificial Intelligence solutions

It is a recurring concern when using AI: Does the algorithm deliver on its promises?
Even in dynamic environments?

Like commercial providers of AI, corporates can now also insure the performance of their self-developed AI solutions within their organisations.

With aiSelf™ you can implement your self-developed AI solution with confidence and convince your decision makers about its reliability and financial benefit. This new cover enables you to mitigate the underperformance, unreliability and drift of machine learning models.

How does aiSelf™ work?

Munich Re

Insurance

AI adopter

A company builds and uses AI along the value creation of their products or services.

Underperformance of the AI can cause a consequential loss in many ways.

Munich Re insures the company specifically against those risks.

The AI solution's performance is insured.
If it underperforms, the insured company's loss is indemnified by Munich Re.
