Protection of your information

Your privacy is important to us and we follow strict security and organisational procedures in the processing, storage, destruction and disclosure of your information. This is to prevent unauthorised access or loss of your information.

Use of your Consent to process Special Categories of Personal Data

In order to provide insurance or to carry out claims settlements, in certain circumstances, we may need to process special categories of personal data, such as medical records or criminal conviction data.

We follow the lawful basis that your insurer has used in processing and disclosing your special categories of personal data to us. This may be for the performance of the insurance contract or consent. If consent is used, you will not have given your consent directly to us but to the insurer that you purchased your policy from.

As far as claim settlement is concerned, the legal basis is also the performance of the contract or, if special categories of personal data are required (for example, your health data when examining the claim), we will seek your consent.

You may withdraw your consent for us to process your special categories of personal data at any time by contacting the Data Protection Officer (details as above). However, if you withdraw your consent this will impact on our ability to provide or continue to provide insurance for your insurance policy or pay claims.

Call Monitoring and Recording

For quality control purposes and to audit the evaluation process for the underwriting and pricing of the risks to be insured, we may review copies of telephone recording made with the intermediary that you purchased your policy from.

Data Retention

Your personal data will only be kept for as long as it is necessary for the purpose it was collected for.
