

REALYTIX ZERO

Next generation digital underwriting to scale your business

With REALYTIX ZERO you can build, distribute and scale digital insurance products like never before! For primary insurers, brokers and MGAs, this means faster time-to-market and a quicker path to profitability.

Re/insurance. Analytics. Zero Code. Zero Effort: REALYTIX ZERO.

REALYTIX ZERO is a cloud-based, automated underwriting platform which helps launch, distribute and scale new or existing insurance products.

With REALYTIX ZERO you can digitize, automate and launch any insurance product in days and adjust it in real-time using our no-code/low-code approach and seamless API integration.

Our recently embedded Python capabilities now enable us to seamlessly integrate even complex pricing logic in a remarkably short time frame.

The benefits of REALYTIX ZERO at a glance

Speed up time to market

Significantly reduce time to market – to just days or weeks – thanks to our unique self-configuration capabilities and a no-code/low-code platform to implement, adapt and scale products very quickly.

Embrace the power of our API capabilities

Integrate easily with existing systems and multiple external data sources or modules (such as AI or machine learning algorithms) at any point in the underwriting process – with a plug-and-play approach.

Reduce costs and increase efficiency

Start using our platform without the need for expensive and time-consuming in-house development or reliance on legacy technology. REALYTIX ZERO saves you time, money and resources.

Leverage Munich Re expertise

Get access to the power of Munich Re's analytics and more than 140 years of extensive underwriting and pricing experience to ensure informed underwriting and pricing decisions.
