News Announcement

Munich Re extends client portfolio with successful digital underwriting implementations in France

Munich Re Automation Solutions Ltd., leading insurtech specialist and subsidiary of the Munich Re group, has announced successful implementations of their ALLFINANZ new business and underwriting solution with leading insurance companies in France.

Natixis Assurance and Aviva France now provide a full-digital, automated underwriting solution to their customers, enabling best-in-class customer experiences and operational excellence.

Luc Heurtaux, Project Director at Natixis Assurance commented: “Thanks to ALLFINANZ, our customers can complete their medical underwriting digitally. We give them a much better customer experience and faster processing of their application.”

Bruno Fischer, Aviva France's provident products and medical expertise director commented: “After incorporating ALLFINANZ in our sales process, we offer a completely digital process between the broker, the underwriter and the client. Using the ALLFINANZ suite, we have both increased our efficiency by automating straightforward decisions and increased customer satisfaction with a shorter journey.”

France is the latest addition to the list of countries where Munich Re has successfully implemented its new business technology. ALLFINANZ is now deployed in 39 countries, making it the most widely used underwriting rules engine in the world.

Munich Re Automation Solutions Ltd. has experienced double digit growth over the past 30 years and has become the leading specialist for digital transformation projects and automated underwriting projects.
