The following elements are included within the process: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Extensive research of the product concept is undertaken to identify an appropriate target market. ▪ Customer type, distribution channel, charging structure as well as the wider market and legal developments are identified and considered. ▪ Risk assessments and regulatory reviews are undertaken to ensure fairness to customers and that any risks to the identified target market are appropriately managed. ▪ Product marketing, training and technical support ensures knowledge of the product is accurately assessed and competence is evidenced prior to distribution of the product. ▪ Post launch, the overall product performance is interrogated and reviewed. The policy provides cover for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ materials from the commencement of loading for despatch to site (including transit and incidental storage); ▪ contract works during the construction period (including automatic continuation of cover for ongoing contracts that increase in contract price; up to 125% of the sum insured); ▪ maintenance and defective design; ▪ free issue materials where these are included in the declared values; and ▪ private dwelling houses and commercial buildings during the construction period, once completed and also pending sale.

Where selected, cover can be provided for the loss of anticipated profit resulting from a loss under section 1 (Contract works) of the policy.

Cover can be extended to include damage to owned and hired in contractors' plant and for loss of or damage to the customer's employees' tools and personal effects (ETPE).

Additionally, where selected, the product provides cover for damage to machinery during its movement between locations within the territorial limits.

All six sections of cover are available to the customer however in order to have the cover provided by section 2 (Advance loss of profits), section 3 (Contractors' plant -owned), section 4 (Contractors' plant – hired in) or section 5 (ETPE), the customer must have first selected cover under section 1 (Contract works). The policy offers flexibility so that different levels of cover can be selected within the six sections.

By offering a standalone Construction Insurance (project) product our customers have the additional market choice of separating out the casualty sections (public liability and employers liability) and exploring different price and cover options for their construction risks rather than packaging all covers into a contractors combined product.
