

Understanding our construction products and appetite

We bring financial stability, broad appetite for risk, and proven expertise to the construction site in the form of Construction Wraps — comprehensive coverage for construction projects, specificly designed to protect owners, general contractors, and subcontractors. Our team of construction specialists and in-house claims attorneys can tailor policies to meet even the most demanding client needs. These project-specific and wrap-up policies, delivered through our network of select wholesale brokers, provide general and excess liability coverage, from project start to finish, under one program.

Appetite overview

Our appetite varies slightly between the three products offered.
