INTRASOFT contributes to MR HealthTech's digital transformation project

Luxembourg, 14 May 2019 - INTRASOFT International, a global ICT company, is collaborating with MR HealthTech, a global leading technology partner in the Health Insurance industry and division of Munich Re, to support MR HealthTech's digital transformation in the field of innovative software solutions.

INTRASOFT will support MR HealthTech to transform its health insurance core administration system. MR HealthTech and INTRASOFT will work as one team, leveraging the capabilities of INTRASOFT'S experienced multidisciplinary teams and under an Agile software development methodology. Agile was selected in order to achieve faster delivery of high-quality results and facilitate a smooth incorporation of business changes as they emerge during the span of the project.

By the end of 2018, a detailed and efficient on-boarding phase was concluded successfully and the delivery phase that started in early 2019 has already produced the first fully accepted deliverables.

Mr. Alexandros Manos, Managing Director of INTRASOFT International commented: "Our new collaboration with MR HealthTech, covering the development of applications using the latest technologies and Agile methodology, reflects INTRASOFT's constant evolution and ability to meet diverse client needs, both in the private and public sector. I look forward to a successful continuation and development of our collaboration with MR HealthTech and its very talented team."

Mr. Gerry Raftopoulos, CEO of MR HealthTech commented: "We continuously invest in our products to be at the forefront in terms of technology and functionality. To this end, we are always looking for synergies with partners that will help us fulfill our objective. Finding the right partner can be hard work; in this case, INTRASOFT's experience and reputation guarantee a beneficial partnership. We are happy to work with people who share our vision and match our professional standards."
